Say "bonjour" to diptyque! Filled with sumptuous scents and vibrant décor, Bal Harbour Shops' newest Parisian boutique is the spinning image of a 1950s Miami. The prominent fragrance and skincare company wove itself right into Miami's colorful fabric with a store adorned in vintage furniture, bright green accented archways, and wood — complete with a banana leaf rug, because that's so Miami.

"diptyque belongs in Miami," Managing Director of diptyque USA Donna DiDonato says, "The city is home to an enormous variety of creative talent and we are excited to now be amongst them in their backyards." We admit that diptyque is one nice neighbor to have.

The new boutique will house collections of eau de toilette, eau de parfum, home fragrance, body care and limited edition launches—oh la love. Shoppers can also get detailed advice on scents, as well as access to a concierge service for luxury wrapped gifts and same-day deliver... perfect for the man or woman who seemingly has it all.
